

HAPPY HÜT NEWS

We are grateful to bring you this first edition of the Happy Hüt Sanctuary News! Happy Hüt Sanctuary is a registered 501c3 nonprofit organization providing shelter, food, and counseling to impoverished people worldwide. We focus on connecting with other nonprofits, to create a larger impact on small communities. This first newsletter focuses on our partners in Uganda, where together we own and run a boarding school for 65 orphan children, 12 volunteers, and teachers.

Shelter+Food+Education

Uganda does not provide free education, public housing, or free food to the children. We have successfully continued providing all of these essential needs, free, to our 65 orphan children, since 2022.

Over the past 6 months, we initiated a small vegan gardening project to cultivate our own food, which helps reduce our daily food expenditure and teaches valuable agricultural skills. We introduced modern teaching technologies, including MagicSchoolAI and ChatGPT, to support both our teachers and learners, enhancing the educational experience.

Gratitude to our Partners

JESSE LOREN
STRICKMAN

We would like to highlight our first Platinum partner, Jesse Strickman, a musician who has helped us raise the most money for our organization!

We have partnered in a brand new merch program, where all proceeds from his merch go directly to Happy Hüt Sanctuary!

We are excited to welcome J & D Wellness as part of our journey. Their support and collaboration will help us achieve our goals in bringing more funds and health items to our sanctuary. Recently, they made a sizable donation of women's clothing to our volunteers and girls.

Celebrating Cultural Exchange

Two high school students in Los Angeles, Shani and Sara, held a Kosher Cookie fundraiser to bring their favorite breakfast food, waffles, to Happy Hüt students. They began getting to know the children in Uganda through our PenPal program, and realized how different their diets were. Sara was determined to allow the students in Uganda to taste her favorite meal!

After raising $250 from selling Kosher Cookies in Hollywood, the girls were able to fund the purchase of a waffle maker and ingredients, for the school in Uganda. Since the school is a vegan organization, we used flax seed, whole grains, and fresh fruits in the waffles; giving the students much needed nutrients in a fun way!

As if that weren't remarkable enough, Juliet, our head teacher, had the idea 💡 to use the new machine not only to feed the kids, but to sell extra waffles to help fund the orphans essential needs.

After receiving a positive response from the largest school in Kampala, the capital city of Uganda, where children and families have resources, we started selling "Happy Waffles" in the canteen from Monday to Friday.

What an amazing blessing from two lovely teenagers in California!

Challenges

Ensuring a stable and secure environment for our high-risk students and volunteers is our number one goal. Our current challenge is paying rent and food for the rest of the year.

Our rent is $150USD per month, for a total of $600 left for 2024.

Thus far, we have managed to continue paying the rent and food bills, from our administration donators by Nixie, Kakeeto, and Juliet. However, due to government closures, Kakeeto has recently lost his paid position in a local government office, creating a higher strain than usual on our organization's ability to cover the essentials. So we are uniting all of our efforts, to do a fundraiser.

Happy Hüt Founder Nixie and partner, Jesse Strickman, are running a Summer Fundraiser August 4-11th to raise \$777 to cover the rest of the year's rent and some food costs, playing live music on Twitch.TV and around Los Angeles!

We are currently seeking 30 monthly sponsors, each contributing $5/month.

As a sponsor, you will be paired with a child to serve as your Pen Pal, receiving monthly updates and photos via email or text communication.
