MARCH

Project Plant-Based

Our entire sanctuary, including students, teachers, and volunteers, embraces a plant-based lifestyle. This season's main food project focuses on fruit design and modeling. Students learn to cut local fruits while creating a variety of edible styles and shapes. This engaging approach not only fosters a connection to healthy eating, and our garden, but also promotes a plant-based lifestyle, all while being absolutely delicious!

Volunteer Spotlight

Dorothy, one of our volunteer teachers, has been with us since we opened our school. She plays a vital role in assisting the children with their projects, leading initiatives, and teaching our preschool students. Living close to the school, Najjambu Dorothy dedicates three days a week to her work and is cherished by the kids, especially the younger ones. Occasionally, she even brings her own donations, including toys, pencils, art supplies, paper, and notebooks. Dorothy is kind, loving, trustworthy, and excels at managing her time. We are incredibly grateful for her contributions. Thank you, Dorothy!!

thank you

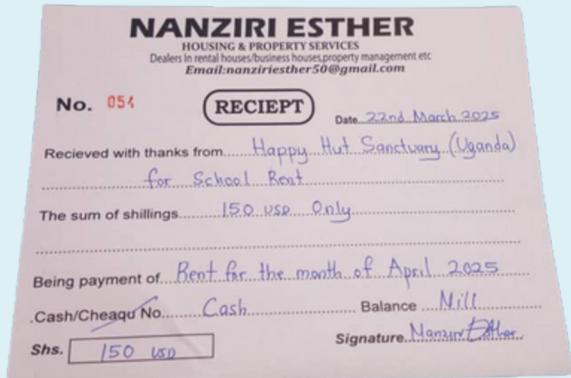

Esther Nasuna

Meet our Student of the Month for March, Nasuna Esther. Like most three-year-olds, Nasuna enjoys swinging, eating snacks all day, and running around. We absolutely love this cute photo of her in a graduation cap.

Happy Housing Club

We deeply appreciate your continued support in providing shelter for our students! Here is our monthly rent receipt, covering next month's rent.

Your generosity ensures that our students have a safe and nurturing environment where they can learn and grow. By contributing to this cause, you're not just providing a roof over their heads, but also a foundation for their dreams and aspirations. We are so grateful for you! ❤️

Current Challenge

One of our persistent challenges is to guarantee that there is an ample supply of food and snacks for the growing children at our sanctuary. Unfortunately, with the US AID being cut from Uganda, our food prices have tripled for our dry staples of wheat flour, rice, beans, potatoes, and spices. That is why, I'm introducing the Happy Tummies Club!!! Together, we can ensure that every child is well-nourished, fed, and able to grow to their fullest potential. You can join the club by going to our Support Page at anytime. The club link is LIVE!

We are aiming to form the Happy Tummies Club of 20 Generous Donors at $15 per month by end of Spring, June 20th, 2025.
